

Johnny B. Howard Scholarship

The Johnny B. Howard Scholarship is awarded annually to a student who will or is enrolled in the welding and joining program at Oconee Fall Line Technical College South Campus, and is or will be a graduate of the Laurens County School System.

The Johnny B. Howard Scholarship is $250 and is awarded annually in May. The award will be paid by a check from the OFTC Foundation South to the student recipient upon successful completion of one semester of study in the welding and joining program. The student recipient has up to one semester following the award to redeem the scholarship.

The scholarship is given in memory of Johnny Buford Howard, a life-long resident of Laurens County. He was a dedicated welding and joining instructor for nine years. He was a member of the American Welding Society and a Certified Welding Instructor. He served as a Skills USA advisor for Heart of Georgia Tech. Johnny was active in his church and community. He served as a Deacon of Trail Branch Primitive Baptist Church. He was a contributing writer for various hunting and fishing publications. He designed and fabricated numerous welding projects for the community.

A completed application, copy of high school and/or college transcripts, and two (2) completed personal references are due by April 1. Recipients will be notified of award at the high school honors program. To be eligible for consideration for this award, the applicant must apply or be a current student in the welding and joining program at Oconee Fall Line Technical College South Campus. Priority will be given to a student who attends or has graduated from West Laurens High School. Award is pending acceptance to the College.
