Frequently Asked Questions

Why should I consider a career as a professional truck driver?

Historically, truck drivers have enjoyed one of the most stable professions in our country. Even in tough economic times, experienced truck drivers have been in demand.

As the U.S. economy becomes even more global, truck drivers make sure American consumers have the goods they need, where they need to be, when they need to be there. If you are self-motivated and like to work on your own, this is a good career choice for you.

How much does a professional driver make?

Drivers get paid in a variety of ways, but all drivers can have a direct impact on the income they can make. Experience and good work ethics will impact your earning capacity. Typically, an entry level driver starts around $30,000 per year. Many experienced drivers make as much as $50,000+ per year.

Why do I need a CDL or CLP (Permit)?

In order to operate a commercial vehicle on public roads, you must possess a valid CDL or CLP (Permit) and meet the same qualifications as ALL Commercial Truck Drivers.

Is a Commercial Learners Permit required before I start class?

No, you will get your permit during class.

Do your trucks have automatic transmissions?

No. Most of them are 8, 9, or 10 speed transmissions. Most trucking companies do not have automatics. We train to give our students options with as many different types of companies as possible.

I have never driven anything with a clutch or manual transmission. Will this be a problem?

In many cases this may be an advantage. Manual transmissions in big trucks do not operate the same as a manual in a smaller vehicle. You will not have to "unlearn" old habits.

Why is there a fuel surcharge?

The average OFTC student will drive 800 to 1000 miles during the class in a Class 8 commercial truck. These vehicles get approximately 6 miles per gallon. So the average student will use around 160 gallons of fuel. The fuel surcharge helps offset some, but not all, of the cost.

Can I get help paying all these costs?

There are various forms of financial aid available. OFTC admissions specialists can help you get the information you need on these programs.

How can I recover my costs for this training?

Graduates of the program are trained to be a Commercial Truck Driver. You will have increased earning ability and a marketable skill. Additionally, many of the major trucking companies who hire our graduates have tuition reimbursement programs. Many of these pay you in increments based on longevity above and beyond your regular pay until you have recovered the cost of your education.

How do I find a job?

OFTC has graduates working with most of the major carriers and are representing our College well. This makes employers more receptive to hiring additional graduates. Driver recruiters visit our classes. Many students have pre-hire commitments before their program is completed. We have many other sources of employment information and contacts to help our students find successful careers.

Am I obligated to work for a particular company?

No. When you complete our program, the knowledge and expertise that you take are yours.

Do I have to go over the road?

You are not required to take any position that does not benefit you or your family. If you do not already have a job waiting, Over the Road carriers are great ways for new drivers to get experience. Once you have one or two years of experience, your options will expand.

When I go to work will I be on the road alone to start?

Most major companies have "Driver Finishing Programs" where new drivers ride with an experienced driver for a period of time until he or she is ready to go it alone. This is usually 6 weeks or less. New drivers normally receive training pay while in this program.

Verification of Lawful Presence in the United States

Effective January 1, 2012, all students applying for in-state tuition must provide validation of lawful presence in the United States. The following documents will serve as proof of lawful presence in the United States and documentation will be required before you are eligible for consideration of in-state tuition:

- A current ID issued by the State of Georgia after January 1, 2008
- A current Driver's License or ID from:

Alabama: Issued after August 1, 2000

Florida: Issued after January 1, 2010

South Carolina: Issued after November 1, 2008

Tennessee: Issued after May 29, 2004

- A certified U.S. Birth Certificate showing the student was born in the U.S. or a U.S. territory. A photocopy is not acceptable.
- An approved completed FAFSA for the current financial aid year.

- A U.S. Certificate of Citizenship (USCIS form N-560 or N-561).
- A U.S. Certificate of Naturalization (USCIS form N-550 or N-570).

Any student who cannot be verified as lawfully present in the United States is not eligible to be considered for in-state tuition, regardless of how long he or she has lived in Georgia. In addition to being lawfully present in the United States, students must meet the in-state tuition requirements as outlined in TCSG Board Policy and Procedure V.B.3 to warrant an in-state classification. Students that are initially classified as out-of-state, and successfully petition to have their residency changed to in-state also have to meet the verification requirement.
